Peter Constantinou

Web Design and UX Student

PROFILE

Thank you for taking the time to review my application and resume! Throughout my career in various positions, I have always been praised for my empathy skills and ability to connect with all types of people from various backgrounds and cultures. As a music teacher, these skills have allowed me to connect with my students, old and young, allowing them to reach their full potential and achieving excellence. I believe that these skills will translate to UX research because connecting with people is vital to creating a solution to their problems that works best for them.

EXPERIENCE

Print and Marketing Associate, FedEx Office, Durham, NC — 2018-2019
Working at Fedex Office as a Print and Marketing Associate, I was able to hear what my customers really needed from their print projects when they lacked the words or concepts to effectively communicate their project goals. My customers could trust that I would take care of them and they would always leave with a smile!

Print Associate, PPD, Wilmington, NC — 2017-2018
While working at the print department at PPD, I was entrusted to print and finish highly confidential and proprietary pharmaceutical development information while being held to the upmost level of production quality and the strictest of deadlines.

Print and Marketing Associate, Staples, Wilmington, NC — 2016-2017
As a print and marketing associate I was challenged to assist customers at the self-service machines, run the UPS counter, maintenance and trouble shoot machines, collaborate on design projects with walk-in customers, answer the phone, process jobs from email, and produce all jobs by their deadlines with the highest possible quality. Multi-tasking and swift customer service with an attention to detail was essential for this position.

Team Member, Warren Wilson College Press, Asheville, NC — 2011-2016
At this job I gain experience in both analogue and digital pre-press layout and printing using single-color offset presses as well as digital printers. I learned how to use InDesign as well as hand pasted layouts using darkroom equipment and a plate maker for the press. I also collaborated directly with the college's marketing and design team to produce the colleges marketing and promotional items.
